

Notes: Listening Effectively

To be a GOOD LISTENER you need to:

- make connections
- ask relevant questions
- repeat or summarize what you hear
- identify point of view
- show you understand (or don't) by the expression on your face

Listen to the story a second time. This time be sure to use GOOD LISTENING STRATEGIES

As you listen to the story do the following things:

- 1) Make a connection with the story.
- 2) Ask a question about something you are curious about.
- 3) Decide what you think the speaker's opinion is of the story. Explain why you think he liked it or not.
- 4) In a sentence or two summarize in your own words what the story is about.
